

Here are a few links to some good online resources on tie-dyeing, from the basics to more advanced techniques and projects.

BASIC TIE-DYE INSTRUCTIONS

Tulip's How To Tie-Dye

<https://www.tiedeyoursummer.com/how-to-tie-dye>

These instructions are based on Tulip's One-Step Tie-Dye Kits.

Dharma Trading's Tie-Dye Basics

<https://www.dharmatrading.com/techniques/tiedye/tie-dye-instructions.html>

Dharma Trading taught me to tie-dye with these basic instructions. Their tutorial assumes you're using their dyes and other products. There's another step or two in the process when you use Dharma's Procion dyes, as compared to the Tulip's One-Step kits. You'll need some additional products (a couple are necessary, some are optional but a good idea, and some are just fun to play around with). But their dyes are still pretty easy to use, and they give you the flexibility to do a lot of cool stuff. Plus, look at all the great colors!!

And for a LOT more information on fabric dyes and dyeing... Paula Burch's All About Hand Dyeing <http://www.pburch.net/dyeing.shtml>

Paula Burch knows more about fabric dyeing than anybody else I know. If you should happen to get way, way into this hobby, you'll find a wealth of good information here

Tulip Color Tie-Dye

<https://www.tulipcolor.com/tie-dye>

Dharma Trading Tie-Dye Products and Kits

<https://www.dharmatrading.com/techniques/tie-dye.html>

Dharma's Serious Tie-Dye Kit

https://www.dharmatrading.com/dyes/kits/serious-tie-dye-group-kit.html?nav=dyes_kits.html

Grateful Dyes

<https://www.grateful-dyes.com/>

Jacquard Products

<https://www.jacquardproducts.com/>

PROChem

<https://prochemicalanddye.net/pro-mx-fiber-reactive-dye.html>

Locally, you can sometimes find Procion dyes and other tie-dye supplies at the following stores:

I'm not an expert at tie-dyeing, but I've been doing it for awhile and I've learned a few things. If you have questions or need advice or recommendations, I'll do my best to help. You can email me at marymc@casagordita.com.

Good luck, and happy tie-dyeing!

FOLDING TECHNIQUES AND PATTERNS

If you want to dye other stuff besides your masks, here are some patterns and instructions for creating all kinds of fun tie-dye effects.

Tulip's Tie-Dye Your Summer

<https://www.tiedeyoursummer.com/techniques>

Up and Dyed

<https://upanddyed.wordpress.com/2013/06/06/tie-dye-patterns-part-3-folds/>

The Neon Tea Party

<https://theneonteparty.com/2019/07/02/how-to-tie-dye-101/>

How To Tie-Dye a T-Shirt

<https://www.theadairgroup.com/resources/how-to-tie-dye-a-t-shirt/>

TIE-DYE SUPPLIES There are several companies that make Procion dyes. They all work basically the same way, but each manufacturer has their own set of dye colors and their own versions of the auxiliary products to use with them.

Michael's

<https://www.michaels.com/>

Joann Fabrics and Crafts

<https://www.joann.com/>

Dick Blick Art Materials

<https://www.dickblick.com/stores/>

Ben Franklin Crafts & Frames

<http://craftsandframes.com/>

ArtSpot Edmonds

<http://artspotedmonds.com/>

Walmart

<https://www.walmart.com/>